

Python Quiz Game

Explanation

In this python quiz game , I have created some questions with the help of “if else” statements. If the player answered the questions with the correct answer ,they will be given points . Initially the score is 0,each time the player gives a correct answer, the score will be incremented.Finally the score percentage will be displayed according to the correct and wrong answers.